PROSPERUS TO PROVIDE COMPLETE SUITE OF PRACTICE MANAGEMENT SERVICES TO OFFICE-BASED PRIMARY CARE AND SPECIALTY PHYSICIANS

ProSperus helps physicians increase efficiency and productivity in today's ever-changing healthcare environment

MILWAUKEE, Wis. – ProSperus, a full-service practice management solution provider, is being launched by Dominion Medical Management, Inc., a leading revenue cycle management firm specializing in management services for specialty physicians. ProSperus will utilize Dominion's proprietary best-in-class software to bring state-of-the-art revenue collection management to office-based family practices and specialty physicians across the country.

"I'm really excited to add ProSperus' expertise to the growing list of practice management services we offer physicians. With ProSperus, we'll be able to bring the office-based physician a wide variety of specialized tools and resources to help manage the administrative part of their practice and allow them to increase productivity and do what they do best – be doctors," William Pickart, CEO of Dominion Medical Management.

ProSperus offers office-based physicians a complete package of practice management processes – from appointment setting, insurance verification through electrical medical records, revenue cycle management, staffing, and practice analytics. Physicians can choose just one or the entire suite of services to consistently enhance performance and compliance.

"Our goal is to transform how physicians manage their practices to effectively leverage the right technology, practices and staff. We give our clients the tools and resources to make that goal a reality." said Tom McBride, CEO of ProSperus. "ProSperus puts doctors back in control of their practice with the highest levels of accuracy, cost-containment, compliance and profitability in the industry."

According to McBride, the software is supported by trained and certified experts with at least twelve years of experience in managing coding and other elements to help office-based physicians overcome the daily challenges they face and keep up with every adjustment in today's ever-changing healthcare environment.

“We look to improve the efficiency of the practice and profitability of our clients. Practices utilizing ProSperus can expect improved clinical outcomes, decreased expenses, augmented revenue, increased compliance and, perhaps more importantly, an improved competitive position in their market.” said McBride.
